GUNTER-CONNOR

One of the pretty weddings of the season was that of Miss Frances M. Connor, daughter of Mrs. Mary Connor, on Wednesday morning in St. Agnes church. The groom was Channing B. Gunter of Arlington, son of Mrs. I. M. Gunter of Brookline. The nuptial mass was celebrated by the pastor of the church, Rev. Mathew J. Flaherty, and was attended by a large number of relatives and friends of the couple. Miss Lucy J. Butler was organist for the service and musical sections of the mass were sung by a quartet composed of Mrs. Catherine O'Hearn, soprano; Mrs. Mary Quinn Delany, contralto; William F. Kelley, tenor, and Bernard Kelley, bass. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss May F. Connor and Andrew Lane of Belmont, was best man. The ushers were Fleur O'Connell and Gustave Anderson, both of Arlington.

Miss Connor wore a wedding dress of white Duchess satin, trimmed with white lace and pearls, with long court train, and made a lovely picture in her beautiful toilette. Her long veil of tulle was held in place by a coronet of orange blossoms. The bouquet was a shower of white roses and lilies of the valley. The maid of honor wore turquoise blue crepe, trimmed with cream colored lace and hat to match. The decorations at the church were effective, the main altar being set with bouquets of roses and carnations and palms.

A reception and wedding breakfast followed the mass at the home of the bride's mother, 2 Orvis road, Arlington. The wedding trip will be an extended one and at its conclusion the couple will make their home at 75 Bailey road, Watertown.

The bride has resided in Arlington all her life and has taken active interest in many of the affairs of the young people. She is a member of St. Agnes Court, Catholic Daughters of America, and has held many offices in the court, being the vice grand regent at the present time. The groom is in business in Watertown.

The groom served in the U. S. Navy during the World War. The wedding trip embraces Lake George, Saratoga Springs and New York, the couple making the trip in Mr. Gunter's automobile.

DUCLOE-DOYLE WEDDING

Miss Alice F. Doyle, daughter of Mrs. Catherine Doyle, and George J. Ducloe, son of Mrs. Mary Ducloe of East Boston, were united in marriage Wednesday morning in St. Agnes church. The nuptial mass was celebrated by Rev. Joseph J. Leonard and the pastor, Rev. Mathew J. Flaherty, performed the wedding ceremony. The wedding was a pretty one, the bride making an attractive picture in her wedding dress of white Canton crepe, trimmed with radium lace. Her veil of tulle was caught in place by a crown of orange blossoms. The bridal bouquet was a shower of lilies of the valley. Miss Doyle was attended by Miss Agnes L. McAuley of Roxbury, as maid of honor. William Cruise of East Boston, was best man. The ushers were Joseph Griffin of West Medford and David Doyle of Arlington, a brother of the bride. The bride's attendant wore yellow Canton crepe and hat to match and carried tea roses.

Miss Lucy J. Butler, former organist of the church, played the organ during the service and Mrs. Mary Quinn Delany, contralto, sang several selections. The main altar of the church was beautifully decorated with cut flowers and palms.

Immediately following the ceremony the wedding party returned to the home of the bride's mother, 4 Park terrace, where a reception and wedding breakfast was held.

The bride is well known in Arlington and East Boston, having spent the greater part of her life in the latter place. She is an active member of St. Agnes Court, Catholic Daughters of America. For several years she has been connected with the payroll department of the Boston Elevated Railway Company and in leave-ing her place of employment she was remembered by her associates by a generous gift. The groom is also employed by the Boston Elevated in East Boston. After a wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Ducloe will make their home in East Boston.

CLASS DAY ARLINGTON HIGH SCHOOL

The one important event looked forward to by the A. H. S. class of 1922, arrived June 16th, when in the morning of that day, the graduates together with their parents, also the pupils in the other classes and the faculty, assembled in the school hall in the morning for class day exercises. First was the awarding of the Blake book prizes. This was by Prof. Alexander H. Rice, chairman of the school committee, who in discharging this feature spoke of the giver, now deceased, and his great interest in the school and the pupils who, by fulfilling the requirements, had merited this generous gift. Those who received the books were:

Ruth Bailey, Mildred Barney, Helen Cook, Jean Currie, Miriam Davis, Elizabeth Doherty, Ruth Eastman, Eugene Farnore, Francis Forrest, Phyllis Frost, Edith Hadley, Beatrice Hamilton, Peter Jerardi, James Jones, John Kechejian, Charlotte Lamson, Frank Locke, Mildred Lyons, Olive Moore, Marguerite Rich, Eleanor Scanlan, Anna Scannell, Lenora Scannell, Wendell Shedd, Annie Slaney, Abram Spizer, Edith Stackpole, Alice Vianello, Virginia Wellington.

Robert Henry Fall, Jr., the class president, in behalf of the class presented the school with a sum of money to be added to that already given, for the memorial to the boys of the school who served during the world war. It was accepted by Principal Gammons for the school.

Miss Edna Byram, who was the chairman of the class day exercises, explained the program about to be given, which had been written by Miss Charlotte Lamson, Miss Edith Stackpole and Miss Byram, assisted by the class supervisor, Mrs. Moffatt, who at this time was presented with a gift from the class in token of its appreciation of her interest and co-operation.

The entertainment was a three-act play. The first represented the class being tried by jury for its misdeeds during its four years. Miss Elizabeth Cobb and David Peirce, selected for their height, one short and the other extremely tall, represented the class. Robert Henry Fall, Jr., was the judge; Charles Odenweller, the clerk, who read the charges preferred against the class, and Wendell Shedd spoke for the jury. The first charge was for kidnapping in the first year, the president of the class when attending a social. The second was disorderly conduct in the conducting of class meetings that necessitated calling in the police (?). The third, insubordination when denied the privilege of dancing in the gym which brought out the threat by some pupils, "no dancing no lessons," and the fourth, monopolizing the honor role with malice aforethought. In this last charge the jury needed witnesses to help them decide and this was an amusing feature, for members of the class impersonated some of the teachers of the faculty. The impersonations were by Virginia Wellington, Emma Parker, Leah Wallace, Argyle Abbott, Dorothy Meserve, Irene McGrath, Beatrice White, Dorothy Calcutt. The teachers impersonated were Miss Bullock, Mrs. Hanna, Miss Hadley, Mr. Fowler, Miss Butterworth, Miss Cheeney, Miss Wakefield, Miss Treat.

The second act was of the present which represented the school room with C. Francis James as principal. This introduced an orchestra led by Edgar Rosie, his musicians playing on "combs, cazoes and potatoes." This created much merriment and in it was introduced a burlesque duet by Misses Cobb and Peirce. Also a song by Miss Emma Parker, the words written by Edna Merritt and sung to the tune, "All by Myself." Then came the class will by Burton Longfellow Pool and the ivy oration, in a facetious vein by Charles Leary. The last was the class prophecy given by Miss Cobb and Mr. Peirce who, as they sat and reflected the members of the class passed in shadow across a curtain. The exercises closed with the singing by the class of its song, the words of which were written by Miss Merritt, to the music of "In the Gloaming." During the program the school orchestra, under the direction of Miss Grace Pierce, gave selections.

GRADUATING EXERCISES

On that evening again the Assembly hall of High school was filled. This time by special invitation of the graduates of class of 1922 and as is always the case, friends and relatives filled the entire seating capacity of the hall.

Previous to the entrance of the class, the High school orchestra, under the direction of Miss Pierce, gave four numbers and merited the generous applause given them by the audience. The orchestra gave several numbers on the program and there was a special number by the senior chorus and Glee club that was splendidly rendered and again the class song, words by Miss Merritt, had a prominent place on the program.

As the class marched into the hall it was greeted with rounds of applause and this was deserved, for it was a most inspiring sight. There were those in the audience who could remember when a class of twenty and thirty was considered a large number to be graduated from the Arlington High school, and at this time there were one hundred and thirty-five young men and women who had completed the requirements of a four-year course. It spoke well for the graduates and also for the town who, through its school committee, has arranged programs of such a helpful nature as to attract a large percent of its children who are availing themselves of the opportunity given them.

The address of welcome was by the president of the class, Robert Fall, and in it he expressed the appreciation of the class for the interest their teachers had shown in them and for the opportunities the graduates had been able to enjoy through the generosity of the town in supporting such a fine institution as the Arlington High school.

The address of the evening was by Judge John G. Brackett, who, just twenty-five years ago was graduated from Arlington High school. An excerpt from the same follows:—

In beginning Judge Brackett asked the class to imagine themselves on a steamer sailing for Europe on their first voyage, being sent off with good wishes by friends who have gathered to wish them Godspeed and of the anticipated pleasure of the tourists in the experiences about to be theirs. Some, no doubt, have made their plans for the future, more probably have not. All, no doubt, wish to make good. "None of you want to be cast up as drift-wood on the beach of failure; all of you hope sooner or later to enter the safe harbor of assured success."

Judge Brackett asked the question, What is success? He then went on to give his definition of the word which was not to be counted by natural things in life but rather by what you give to the world and emphasized this point by the reciting two stories as to the way success was achieved, which was through courtesy, by concentration on the immediate task in hand, willingness to work long hours at small pay in order to get the right start, by integrity, by industry and thrift, more particularly by unswerving loyalty to the man who pays the salary and by the thoroughness with which one performs every task assigned him.

This was the rule Judge Brackett said that governed J. C. Penney, the originator of the great chain of co-operative stores now scattered throughout the country which had been founded on the principle of giving a square deal to everybody. In reciting the story, Judge Brackett said:

"And if you members of the graduating class will only apply in your life-work, whatever it may be, these great qualities of mind and heart, the chances are ten to one that you will sooner or later achieve your ambition and win your place in the world."

But even if you do not reach your goal, even so, if you do your work faithfully, thoroughly, and above all, squarely, with no wasted days, you will still in the larger sense of the term at least, be a success, for no man, whether he be the Prime Minister of England or only a poor laborer in a city street, who does his level best to fill acceptably the niche in life in which he is placed, is a failure, and on the other hand, no man, though he may win the wealth of a Morgan or a Rockefeller, is a success, unless that wealth is honorably and honestly obtained.

Right opposite my home is the Spy Pond Playground. From my porch I can see you on Saturday afternoons and holidays as you gather on your grandstand, to cheer your football team upon the gridiron and your baseball team upon the diamond. Those teams have a record for victories won of which any school might well be proud, but they have won something infinitely finer than that, and that is the enviable reputation of living up to and applying in all their athletic contests that motto carved in the solid rock over the entrance to your grandstand that motto which says to every member of those teams, whenever he goes upon the playground to battle with his opponents from other schools, "Play Fair"—and though you are naturally anxious for your team to win as many games as possible for the glory of the red and the gray, yet you would rather, ten thousand times rather, have your team go down in honorable defeat with colors flying and all sail set, than that they should win any game, however important, by any means or methods which are not thoroughly honest, honorable, fair, straightforward, and above-board.

And so I want to leave with you as my parting word tonight, and I want you to take it with you in your work and in your play, in your families and homes, and in the busy life of the outside world on which you are about to enter, and I want you to remember it in youth, in middle life, in your later years, when the shadows are falling to the westward, so to the end, when in the memorable words of Bryant's "Thanatopsis," you shall wrap the drapery of your couch about you and lie down to pleasant dreams, remember as the very key-note and cornerstone of a well-rounded life, as the truest measure of genuine success, in the highest and finest sense of the word, remember that "When the one Great Scorer comes To write against your name, He writes, not that you won or lost, But how you played the game."

The essays on the program were given by three honor pupils. They were Olive M. Moore, Francis Xavier Forest and Mildred A. Barney. The essays dwelt on the youth of today. Miss Moore handled the subject from the girl's point of view, and Mr. Forest from that of the boy, Miss Barney summing up the question in an optimistic vein as to his or her future place in the world. Each essay was intensely interesting, especially in view of the present day criticisms of the youth and on presenting the diplomas by Prof. Rice, he spoke in most complimentary terms as to the high character of the essays and of the splendid manner in which the subject had been handled by the writers.

As the class filed across the stage, Prof. Rice presented a diploma to the following list of graduates:—

ST. AGNES PAROCHIAL SCHOOL GRADUATION

Graduation exercises of St. Agnes Parochial school were held in St. Agnes church Sunday afternoon. The exercises were of a solemn and very impressive nature, being attended by a very large number. The graduates marched into the church just prior to the opening of the exercises and took seats on both sides of the center aisle. One feature of the graduation this year was the fact that for the first time in the history of the school boys were graduated. In years gone by the accommodations were not large enough for boys but now with added facilities this is possible and each year will see more boys graduated. The address to the graduates was delivered by Rev. Joseph J. Leonard. Incidental to the graduation exercises musical numbers were sung by members of the church choir, solo sections being sung by Mrs. Katherine O'Hearn, soprano; Mrs. Mary Quinn Delany, contralto; and William F. Kelley, tenor. The exercises closed with solemn benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament, the pastor, Rev. Mathew J. Flaherty, being celebrant, Rev. Joseph J. Leonard, deacon and Rev. Donald F. Simpson, sub deacon. The pastor, Rev. Fr. Flaherty, awarded the diplomas to the graduates, giving a short address filled with much encouragement to the graduates. Those receiving the diplomas were:—

Mary A. Ahern, Catherine J. Cusack, Louise F. Day, Frances M. Doherty, Elizabeth H. Donovan, Mary A. Farrington, Marion C. Gullis, Ethel R. Hughes, Florence M. Mannix, Helen M. Moran, Alice R. Murray, Anastasia M. McCarthy, Jeanette E. Snelders, Anna C. Welch, Thomas D. O'Keefe, John T. Quinn, Anna J. Burns, Mary P. Daley, Elizabeth M. Dineen, Josephine A. Donovan, Ethel E. Doyle, Doris E. Gallagher, Elvira L. Hart, Margaret M. Lill, Mary E. Meaney, Ethel E. Mulgrew, Agnes R. McCarthy, Mary V. Newman, Anna M. Welch, Paul J. McCullough, Harry A. Parris, Helen F. Spriggs.

A number of prizes were presented by the pastor, Mary A. Ahern receiving an award of gold chain and gold cross for highest in Christian Doctrine. The highest averages of the classes were made by Anna Burns, Grade 8; Hannah Snelders, Grade 7; Dorothy Byrne, Grade 6; Mary Mannix, Grade 5, and Marie Mulgrew, Grade 4, and each was awarded a gift for their work.

The awards for perfect attendance during the school year were made to Mary Ahern, Anna Burns, Ethel Hughes and Paul McCullough in Grade 8; Annie Bowman, Hannah Snelders and John Sullivan in Grade 7; Dorothy Byrne, Marguerite Donovan and Mary O'Leary in Grade 6; Helen Quinn and Mary Ryan in Grade

5; Jeanette Sullivan in Grade 4; Mary Coyne, Mary Cronin and Joseph McCullough in Grade 3; John Collins and Frances Coyne in Grade 2 and Agnes Kelley and John Reagan in Grade 1.

Referring to More Capital:

INCREASING business requires more equipment, of-fices, generating station capacity, sub-stations, conduits, poles and wires.

The State Department of Public Utilities very properly rules that the income from customers cannot be used for the purchase of such equipment.

It must be bought with capital secured by the sale of new securities. Securities sell best when backed by strong Public Confidence and Good-Will.

GRAMMAR SCHOOLS TRACK MEET

The annual track meet of the grammar grades of the schools of Arlington, was held on Spy Pond Field Tuesday and Wednesday mornings of last week. Tuesday morning the girls' events were run off, and on Wednesday morning the boys' events were held. The Crosby school carried off the honors with 97 points, Locke being second with 77½, Russell third, with 64, Cutter fourth with 52, and Parmenter fifth with 24½. The meet was in charge of Dr. William T. McCarthy, director of athletics in the schools of the town and the teachers of athletics in the schools. Miss Rae Hoffman of the Locke school, Miss Katherine McCarthy, Cutter; Miss May Ryan, Russell; Miss Marjorie Woodhead, Crosby; and Miss Helen Gallagher, Parmenter, looked after the various events and those taking part in them. That the various schools were out to win the meet was very apparent; and every event was strenuously contested. Many of the finishes were very close and sometimes the pupils have been drilling hard all season to get in condition for the meet and to them it is one of the big events of their lives. It also gives the teachers and parents a chance to see just how the child is trained and developed along athletic lines and the vast amount of good it does for them. ## ARLINGTON BOY APPOINTED FRESHMAN COACH

M. A. C.
Herbert L. Collins of Arlington, has been appointed freshman coach at M. A. C. for the coming year. He gained a reputation through Massachusetts as the best all-round athlete at Aggie. He will have charge of football, hockey and baseball, while it is expected that he also will have charge of the varsity hockey sextet, a duty which he filled during the last part of last season.

"Hub" first gained athletic prestige while in Arlington High, where he played hockey and baseball, and became well known in Hub scholastic circles. On his arrival at Aggie he became captain of the freshman hockey team and next year made the varsity easily. Last winter he was captain of the sextet that walloped Yale, West Point and the St. Nicks. He did not try for football until his junior year, when Coach Gore was short of material for the backfield. He made one of the best half-backs that has donned the maroon for some time, and when a threatened appendicitis forced him to give up the game in midseason the coaches termed it the worst blow that Aggie athletics had received in some time. Collins is a three-letter man, completing his assortment on the base-

ARLINGTON BOY SCOUT NEWS

The summer assembly of the Arlington Boy Scouts, to be held June 24, in connection with the Circus and Horse Show on Bassett's Field, Medford street, bids fair to be the finest ever held in this town. An interesting and instructive program has been arranged which will be put on by the different troops, during the course of which, merit badges to the number of 100 will be conferred by Brig. Gen. Wilson B. Burt, U. S. A., Department of the Northeast, who will also give the troops a regular inspection.

A feature of the program will be the taking of the Boy Scout Oath by the members of the Board of Selection accompanied by a picked squad of scouts.

The Arlington Troops will parade from the playground to Bassett's Field at 2:45 p. m. which will give those citizens unable to attend the circus an opportunity to see the boys on the march. Upon arrival at the field this program will be followed: Opening Exercises—Salute to the flag.

Colors—Scout Oath.
Inspection by Gen. Burt.
Presentation of Merit Badges.
Demonstration of Scout Work.
Parade and Passing in Review.
Bugle Call and Retreat.

These exercises are particularly interesting and inspiring and are sure to prove most popular. It is hoped that the meeting will be attended by everyone in town interested in boys. In case of stormy weather, the rally will be held in some hall to be decided upon later.

Eleven members of Troop 10, led by Assistant Scoutmaster S. M. Richardson, autot to Marlboro Friday evening, where Mr. Richardson has a summer camp in the pine woods and camped out over the holiday and Sunday, sleeping in shelter tents which they pitched on the knoll behind the camp. The weather was not particularly good, but the boys had a splendid time and learned a lot about living in the open. Athletic games, instruction in woodcraft and the usual camp fire stories made the time pass quickly and on Sunday afternoon the members of the troop returned to their homes with the question on their lips, "When do we go again?" Some of the scouts had never before slept out in the open, but all took to it like veterans. This troop, one of the youngest in the council and composed for the most part of boys who have never had any previous experience in scouting, is coming fast and is showing in a marked way the result of the hard work of the Scoutmasters.

Troop 3, Scoutmaster Philip W. Alsen, also enjoyed a camping trip over the holiday. Fourteen members with the Scoutmaster and Assistant Scoutmasters Francis Hodgson and Ernest Washburn went up to Camp Oak, Billerica Friday afternoon and had a fine time in spite of the rain. The mornings were spent in required scout work, the afternoons in games and sports and the evening around the camp fire. The new camp stove was given a hard test by Scoutmaster Alsen and met all requirements.

FORTIETH ANNIVERSARY

On June 16, 1882, a lad of slight build landed in Arlington from Germany. Unaccustomed to this country and its ways, he was a little home sick, although he had his home with his uncle, Theodore Schwamb, who owned a piano case factory on Mass. avenue near Forest street, so pleasantly remembered by a wide circle. But the lad had courage, realized life is what one makes it for himself and on the day following went to work in the factory. Starting at a very small wage (board included), he quickly began climbing the ladder which leads to success by watching his opportunities, being always on the job, giving the best that was in him.

On last Friday evening Philip Eberhardt, the lad above spoken of, celebrated his 40th anniversary with the Theodore Schwamb Co., by giving the employees of the various departments and the directors of the Arlington National Bank, of which he is one of the founders, a banquet, for the lad of forty years ago is now president of the Theodore Schwamb Company. The party of last Friday was more like a big family gathering. There were men present still employed by the company whose terms of service date back more than forty years. Others have been there thirty years and so on down the line through the one hundred employed by the concern. This is not the first banquet that the men have enjoyed from their "boss" as they call him. If all companies employing a number of men could assemble their employees in the same manner and have them give testimony as to the excellent working conditions, fair treatment and the like, it would mean a great deal to the laboring class. The fact that there were so many men present who had been at the factory for so many years told of the fair treatment and good conditions. All praised Mr. Eberhardt for his effort in always trying to better their conditions and giving them a good working condition and good wages. The banquet was served on the fourth floor of the main building, the Hardy Catering Company serving a most delectable menu.

One long table was set across the upper end of the room and here the directors of the bank sat, the employees being gathered together in such a manner as all faced the head table. On the head table was a huge basket of roses, a gift from the bank directors in honor of the anniversary. After the good things of the banquet had been disposed of, Mr. Eberhardt delivered an address of welcome that did not leave any doubt about the welcome. Each of the men were called on and if they did not make a speech they stood up to be seen by the rest. Many speeches were made, Prof. Theodore Schwamb and John Eberhardt, speaking for the firm. Henry Finley, one of the oldest employees of the firm, presented Mr. Eberhardt with a fishing rod, tackle and reel as a gift from the employees of the factory. At the presentation Mr. Eberhardt was visibly affected and for a few moments could not find words with which to express himself. That Mr. Eberhardt enjoys the esteem of his men is very evident and he has a contented lot of hard working men helping him keep up the great name of the Theodore Schwamb Company which is known all over the country.

INGALS-BARNES WEDDING

The marriage of Barbara, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Horace Barnes of 26 Hopkins road, Arlington, to Mr. Ephraim Fletcher Ingals, M. J. T., class of 1923, and son of the late Dr. Ephraim Fletcher Ingals of Chicago, took place Tuesday evening in the First Baptist church, Arlington. The ceremony, which was the single ring, was performed by Rev. Henry, Sterling Potter, D. D., minister of the church. It was a small wedding, only attended by the immediate relatives and intimate friends of the couple.

Mr. Mark S. Dickey the organist of the church, played throughout the service and while the guests were being seated by the ushers, who were Mr. Ansen Meador of Chicago, Ill.; Mr. Willard D. LeShure of Springfield; Mr. Arthur Melling of Chicago, and Mr. Reginald S. Hall of Montclair, N. J. Mr. Spencer Crilly of Chicago, was the best man.

The attendants of the bride were her sister, Mrs. Harold Sterling Morse of Canton, Mass., as the matron of honor; Miss Mary G. Ingals, a sister of the groom, and Miss Marion D. Floyd of Newton Center, as the bridesmaids.

A small reception followed immediately at the residence of the bride's parents. Mr. and Mrs. Ingals are on a two weeks' trip. After August first they will be at home at 1572 Mass. avenue, Cambridge.

BROTHERHOOD

Do you know what it means? Have you thought amid the toil and strife of a busy day, what it might mean to you and to all of us, if we learned the meaning of that one word and lived it? Will you read how M. Y. O. B. explains the meaning of the word to its new members?

"We would ask that you give us clean hands, clean words, clean thoughts, help us to stand for the hard right, against the easy wrong, to work as hard and play as fair in the sight of each other, as if all the world saw. (Forgive us when we are unkind and help us to forgive those who are unkind to us. Help us to live each day full to our best, to be always ready to help others even at some cost to ourselves. Help us to keep from scorn and hate, from petty spite. Let no one find us proud or cold, too silent or too loud, afraid or overbold. Let us live each day a friend to all who chance along our way. Send us opportunities to do a little good every day. Speak ill of no man—Honor and respect woman kind, honor and defend, if need be, the Constitution of the United States."

There has never been a time in the history of our country when teaching such as this, has been needed more. Can not each of us find some lesson here that will make life a little brighter for others, and in so doing make our own lives more worth while. We are here but for a day, but what we do lives after us in the lives and character of the younger ones we meet on our journey. They are bound to copy, why not make the copy worth while, and one and all live up to the M. Y. O. B. motto—May You Observe Brotherhood.

There is no age limit. There is work for all to do. Let us all strive to live up to that motto—lend a hand in the work the boys are doing. Become a member, show them you are with them, and who can measure the good that may come from some simple word you may say, or some kindness you may show to that boy of today, who will be the man of tomorrow. Why not help him be a better one morally, mentally and physically? You Can! Will You?

THE CHRISTIAN SPIRIT

The Baptist National Convention, that closed its session at Indianapolis, June 21, on Monday, adopted the following "Code of Ideals":—

"We believe that nations no less than individuals are subject to God's immutable moral laws.

"We believe that nations achieve true welfare, greatness and honor only through just dealing and unselfish service.

"We believe that nations that regard themselves as Christians have special international obligations.

"We believe that the spirit of Christian brotherliness can remove every unjust barrier of trade, color, creed and race.

"We believe that Christian patriotism demands the practice of Godliness between nations.

"We believe that international policies should secure equal justice for all races.

"We believe that all nations should associate themselves prominently for world peace and good will.

"We believe in international law and in the universal use of international courts of justice and boards of arbitration.

"We believe in a sweeping reduction of armaments by all nations.

"We believe in a warless world and dedicate ourselves to its achievement."

YOUR RIGHTS AND MINE

There is a spirit in vogue in these United States, built up and urged forward by men whom labor unions believe in and apparently blindly follow, that seems to us like sowing to the wind which ultimately reaps the whirlwind. Stripped of things behind which it hides in a clamor for so termed rights, it in reality is a drive to break down constructive elements in public and private affairs and win for itself a selfish advantage.

Now property rights are among the most precious of human rights. Thousands among those who are enrolled in the ranks of unionized labor, by their industry, thrift and husbanding of resources, are in the same class as those outside these combinations of wage earners, because they have property rights in homes they own, in Liberty Bonds in which surplus wages have been invested, but more than all in the children that bless homes and make them happy. Are those composing this large class (a real majority), still so blind as to fail to see that if what their leaders plan is achieved, their holdings of necessity will not escape in the disaster planned.

It is common for the leaders in unionized labor to speak sneeringly of the capitalist, and without question there are holders of great fortunes whose methods of building up the same deserve condemnation and punishment, but any man who has a surplus above any and all legitimate claims upon him, is a capitalist to just that extent.

One cannot help looking forward with dread when a paralyzing of the transportation facilities of the country are threatened as they now are, if reports of the action of employees on railroads are true and a million men go on strike with the beginning of next month. Coupled with this threat is the claim that coal mining unions will join hands with them in enforcing demands by a general walkout.

There is for this situation one solution only, and that is a change in the mental attitude of the wage earner toward the corporation or individual paying the wages. How this will come or when, no one can tell; but this much is certain, nothing yet has ever been built up to a towering height that was not founded on fair dealing and justice to all concerned, that has not tottered to a fall.

A commission organized from conflicting interests and meant to be just and fair has made a careful study of all conditions and concluded that in order to save the great transportation lines a reduction in wages is inevitable. The members of that commission representing the wage earners refuse to agree with the majority, and the conditions we have alluded to face the country. If this has become a country to be ruled and dictated to by a minority, the sooner it is demonstrated the better, for then there can be a rebuilding on stronger and better lines.

President Harding delivered an address at Princeton (N. J.) University last week, at which time the degree of doctor of laws was conferred upon him. The first Congress of the United States assembled in that city in 1783.

Next Tuesday, June 27, the Middlesex County G. A. R. Association will meet at Lexington at 10.30 o'clock in the forenoon. The delegates and friends will be entertained by Geo. G. Meade Post 119, in the Post Hall, and at noon dinner will be served in the banquet hall. The Woman's Relief Corps Association also has its meeting at Lexington.

Who said Friday was unlucky? Washington was born on Friday. America was discovered on Friday. Richmond was evacuated on Friday. The Mayflower pilgrims landed Friday. The Battle of Bunker Hill was fought Friday. The Battle of New Orleans was fought on Friday. The Battle of Waterloo on Friday, and the Declaration of Independence was signed Friday. Yes, and Robinson Crusoe had a man named Friday.

Pressure is being brought to bear upon the Congress to abandon all efforts to write a new tariff at this session. It is argued by those back of this effort that this is not a propitious time to enact a new tariff law because economic conditions throughout the world are unsettled and this nation should wait until normal conditions prevail before attempting to enact a tariff law. It is also urged by the same interests that for this country to enact a protective tariff would invite retaliation by the other nations. According to a table reaching us this week, the United States is the only country interested that has not enacted a protective tariff since the Armistice was signed, most of them dating back a year at least.

The clerk of the weather handed out a decidedly poor example of what he can do along his line on June 17, but it might have been far worse and was not bad enough to put a veto on programs arranged for observance of Bunker Hill Day in Charlestown and elsewhere. Those who had planned for a week-end holiday because the date this year came on Saturday, fared badly, however, Sunday turned out to be a real rainy day, with heavy showers during the night and Monday saw a marked increase in rainfall. It is rare at this season of the year to have so many days of continuous wet weather, and as it was graduation day with several educational institutions in this vicinity, thousands were disappointed and put to inconvenience. About the only thing encouraging about it is that this continued spell of wet weather insures a good hay crop.

The teaching profession is still popular with Boston University students. More than 50 percent of the senior class at the College of Liberal Arts will become teachers, mostly in the public high schools. In addition to these, 60 students who have taken specialized training in the School of Education or the Graduate school will enter educational work. Of this year's graduates, 120 are planning to go either into the ministry, religious education, or some form of social service. 10 of these students will sail as missionaries to China, Japan, India, and Africa in the early part of the summer. A survey of the geographical distribution of the graduates shows that 52 come from Boston and 440 from Massachusetts. The remainder of the students come from practically every state in the Union, and from China, Japan, Porto Rico, Portugal, Korea, Armenia, Canada, Bermuda, British West Indies and South America.

REP. C. C. WARREN TO RUN FOR STATE SENATOR

Through the Boston Herald the first of the week, Representative Charles C. Warren announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for senator in the 6th Middlesex district, succeeding Senator Lewis Parkhurst of Winchester, who will not be a candidate for re-election. The district includes the towns of Winchester, Stoneham, and Wakefield with Arlington and the city of Woburn.

Mr. Warren resides at 15 Maple street. Ever since coming to the town, which is some twenty years ago, he has taken an active interest in all that pertained to its best welfare. He has been chairman of the Republican Town Committee where his work was recognized as efficient and telling. For one term he represented the senatorial district on the state committee. In the town he has served on the school committee.

Mr. Warren has represented the district in the House for three years and during all that time he has been a member of the Ways and Means Committee, the last two years serving as its clerk. He has always been popular in the district as has been shown at the polls. In his first campaign for nomination for the House, he defeated two Republicans and for the past two years he has been renominated without opposition of any sort.

Arlington may well be proud to be represented by a man who can show such a clean record as Mr. Warren in his public office. He is being endorsed by some of the town's leading citizens and his entrance into the field so far, has not been questioned as a proper sequence for services rendered to his district. His views upon public questions as shown in his vote makes him beyond doubt a man who can be counted upon as doing the right thing at the right time but at the same time having the courage of his convictions and standing for the principles of his party.

Mr. Warren has a record for which Arlington may well feel proud and so he is willing to indorse him for the higher honor he is now asking from the voters of the sixth district.

SATURDAY A BIG DAY WITH EDISON FOLKS
The annual field day tendered to the employees of the Edison Electric Illuminating Company of Boston will be held on Saturday next at the Employees Recreation Grounds, 1165 Mass. avenue, Boston. It is estimated that over seven thousand Edison employees and families will partake of the hospitality of their company on that day.

The 101st Regiment Band, under the leadership of Mr. James Coughlin, has been secured to furnish music throughout the day. Dancing will also be enjoyed. Vaudeville from the leading theatres of Boston has been secured and will be presented throughout the day for the entertainment of those present. Hundreds of novelties and little folks will be on hand for the little folks as well as the proverbial Punch and Judy.

Mrs. Charles L. Edgar, wife of President Charles L. Edgar, has offered a prize for the most distinctive costume worn by any child under seven years of age. This contest is creating no end of interest among the families of the Edison employees and this event promises to be one of the big features of the day.

Athletic events will take place from nine to twelve a. m. and from two to five p. m.

Refreshments will be served from twelve to three p. m. During the day the Transportation Department will raise the baseball pennant as the champions of the Edison league for 1921.

Prizes will be awarded in all athletic events.

CALVARY CHURCH PICNIC

The annual Sunday school picnic was held at Riverhurst on Saturday, June 17, and was well attended, considering the inclemency of the weather. After some deliberation as to the advisability of postponing the outing, the party left the church about 9:15 a. m. in two of Pierce's auto trucks for Billerica. The first event on the program, upon arrival at the picnic grounds, was a baseball game between the Trinity Baptist church team and the Calvary church nine. The game was closely contested until the third inning, when the Calvary team scored nine runs which were more than enough to win the game, the final score being 15 to 2. The Trinity players found it impossible to connect with the delivery of Bentley, the Calvary pitcher, which fact accounts for the final result of the contest. Following the game, the picnicers all partook of their basket lunches, after which a program of sports was started. Only a few events had been carried out, however, when a downpour of rain made it necessary for all to seek shelter and it was decided to call off the program of sports and return to Arlington. Upon arrival at the church, the vestry was cleared and the young folks enjoyed games, until the supper hour, when lunch was again in order. Mrs. Anne Wallace, assisted by some of the other ladies, served hot chocolate and tea. The party broke up about seven o'clock, all agreeing that a good time had been enjoyed, despite the unfavorable weather conditions. The winners of the various athletic events were awarded handsome ribbons which were provided by the Sunday school.

Chats with
Gas Man

Many of the accidents attending the use of gas-heating appliances reported each winter are due to cheap, unfit tubing. This is sold, for the most part, by persons whose intentions may be honorable but who have no special knowledge of the requirements of good gas tubing.

Cheap tubing is a false and dangerous economy. To save a few pennies, the careless purchaser deliberately forfeits the protection of all those safeguards in the use of gas which have taken years of study and experiment to perfect.

Unfortunately, we cannot control the sale of such tubing, but we do warn you most emphatically of the danger attending its use.

The safest rule to follow is: Purchase your tubing from us and you will not only get the best tubing that it is possible to buy but you will secure the guarantee of service that goes with it.

NICHOLLS DURING WEDDING

A pretty home wedding took place Wednesday evening, June 21, at eight o'clock, when Viola May Durling, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Durling of 5 Lee terrace, Arlington, became the bride of John Vincent Nicholls, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Nicholls of 23 Egerton road, Arlington.

The ceremony which was the double ring, was performed by Rev. Thomas Burns, a cousin of the groom and pastor of the Medford Hillside Methodist church and was witnessed by only the immediate relatives and a few intimate friends of the contracting couple.

The home was attractively decorated with cut flowers and palms, the bay window of the parlor where the bridal party took its stand, being arranged with an abundance of sweetheart and Killarney roses, ferns and palms. The wedding music was furnished by Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Hadley, violinist and pianist.

The bride, who is a charming blonde, made a lovely picture in her wedding gown of white georgette and Chantilly lace. Her tulle veil was held in place with orange blossoms and she carried a shower bouquet of brides' roses, lilies of the valley and sweet peas. She wore one of her gifts, a pearl necklace.

Mrs. Marshall Torrey of Waverly, a cousin of the bride, was matron of honor. Her gown was of blue organdie and she carried pink roses. Little Eleanor Stots of Roslindale, a cousin of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a dainty frock of pink organdie, and carried a pink basket of rose petals and roses. Mr. Miles Nicholls, a brother of the groom, acted as best man. The ushers were Roger Hall of Arlington, Harry Patterson of Somerville, and Mr. Marshall Torrey of Waverly.

At eight thirty a reception, attended by over one hundred friends, was held at which an out of town caterer served refreshments. The bridal party was assisted in receiving by the parents of the bride and groom. Mrs. Durling wore a gown of periwinkle blue georgette with white beaded trimmings. Mrs. Nicholls was gowned in dark blue satin with crystal bead trimmings. The Misses Flora Watson, Viola Watson, Edna Ivester and Maude Hadley distributed the wedding cake. In the living room were displayed the many beautiful and costly gifts received by the couple.

The bride was born in Arlington, attended the public schools and was graduated from the High school. Both the bride and groom are prominent and active in the work of Trinity Baptist church. The groom was born in Allston and has resided during the past six years in Arlington.

ton. He was overseas a year with the 55th Artillery during the World War. He is Scoutmaster of Troop 2, Boy Scouts, and is popular with his troop.

TWO ARLINGTON YOUNG WOMEN IN MISSIONARY WORK

The last missionary meeting of the Woman's Society of the Arlington Heights Baptist church, was held at the home of Mrs. Alice Maynard, Daniels road, Tuesday afternoon.

The work of the afternoon was the preparation of boxes to send to missionaries and the speakers of the afternoon were two young women who are faithful workers in the church and Sunday school, who are now entering the mission field themselves.

Miss Hazel Hovey, a student at Gordon Bible School of Theology and Missions, who in her spare time is acting as one of the pastor's assistants at Ruggles Street Baptist church, told of her work in these lines. It is a big work and already she is doing a large missionary service in this field to which she is much devoted. Miss Hovey is a consecrated Christian worker and is preparing for a life of usefulness in the foreign field.

Miss Kathleen Rounds who, a year ago graduated from Boston University and in August of last year started for Cuba to teach in Colegion Internacionales de Christo, Cuba, under the Baptist Home Missionary Board, read the scripture and sang a hymn in Spanish, as well as delighting the audience with an account of her work. Other denominations are doing a great work in Cuba but the eastern side is the Baptist stronghold. Miss Rounds is well fitted for her work, both in head and heart.

These two young women have meant much to the church work at the Heights and now are entering into a larger world service.

Miss Rounds will return to her work in Cuba this fall. She is now spending her vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Rounds, 1261 Mass. avenue. A large number were present.

Mrs. Maynard served refreshments at the close of the program. This closed the work for the season and was one of the most inspiring meetings of the year.

LAWN PARTY AND STRAWBERRY
FESTIVAL

The Ladies' Aid of the First Baptist church, Lexington, held a pretty and successful lawn party and strawberry festival Tuesday afternoon and evening on the lawn of Dr. and Mrs. William L. Barnes' residence, 365 Mass. avenue.

Mrs. Barnes is president of the Ladies' Aid of the church and with the co-operation of her associates, the affair proved a money earner as well as a social affair, in spite of the rather unpropitious weather for an out of door fête.

The grounds were decorated and lighted with Japanese lanterns and American flags. The arch through which an entrance to the grounds was made, was trimmed with the national colors in crepe paper and all the tables, from which refreshments were served, were decorated with the same colors. A hurdy gurdy played throughout the afternoon and evening. At five o'clock the kindergarten department of the Sunday school went through a flag drill.

It was a cafeteria supper. This was served in the center of the lawn the tables from which the food was obtained being about the grounds. They were as follows:—Sandwiches, Mrs. Charles Dempsey, Mrs. E. V. Earle; frankforters and potato salad, Mrs. Minnie Madison, Mrs. C. A. White; strawberries and all kinds of cake, Mrs. Bernard Baker, Mrs. Frank Hodgdon, Mrs. White; home-made ice cream, Mrs. Ernest McPhoe, Mrs. Frank Berquist, Mrs. Gus Young. The supper committee was Mrs. Ethel Stevens Young, Mrs. Elmer Gray, Mrs. Fred Miller. Home-made candy was sold by Miss Bessie Oliver and Mrs. Elsworth Comley, Mrs. Edith Hutchinson and Mrs. John Terhune were cashiers. The total receipts of the affair was $122.75. The net earning $81.55.

The High School baseball team did not play its closing game of the season scheduled for last Saturday. The opposing team, Melrose High, came here and the teams got ready for the game, but the heavy rain made it necessary to call the game off.

Mrs. Edwin Allen of 16 Woodland street, leaves tomorrow for Andover, N. H., where she will act as organist during the week of religious institute held by the Unitarian denomination. At Andover is situated the Unitarian Academy and its beautiful location among the mountains makes it an ideal spot in which to spend a vacation.

Charlotte J. Butler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Butler of 10 Addison street, who, prepared for college at the Arlington High school, has just received her A. B. degree from Smith College. While she was in college she was a member of the Polity Club, also served on the committee for the senior class supper and was also a student adviser. She majored in English and is planning to take a secretarial course next year.

Past Department Commander Alfred H. Knowles was a guest of Post 9 of Hudson, Mass., June 17, when that organization celebrated its fifty-fifth anniversary, assisted by the several organizations affiliated with it. Only nine of the comrades were able to attend but there were 380 guests at the banquet, these including city officials and many prominent in G. A. R. and W. R. C. circles. Comrade Knowles reports it as one of the best of many similar gatherings he has attended.

Saturday night a false alarm was sent in from Box 14 and while the men were at this box, which is in East Arlington near the Cambridge line, an alarm came in from Box 71 at Sylvia street, near the Lexington line. Box 71 was for a real fire and was in a barn that had been made over into a garage on that street. The flames soon enveloped the building and by the time the department made the long run from East Arlington, the building was reduced to ashes. Adjoining property was threatened but did not ignite.

A trip to the top of Park Avenue this week disclosed the fact that the new standpipe is going up rapidly. The new standpipe will hold some 2,000,000 gallons of water. The old one held some 65,000 gallons, so the size of the new one can be estimated from these figures. When the section to hold the water is completed, the work of putting the granite exterior will start. On the top of this there will be an observation tower and the new addition to our water service will be a thing of beauty.

Miss Edna C. Lovering of 53 Teale street, will be abroad for the entire summer, leaving Boston June 24th, on the New White Star liner, "Pittsburgh," on her maiden voyage. The following students from Arlington received degrees:—Mrs. Joanna F. Blizard, Bachelor of Arts; Miss June Sanford, Bachelor of Science; Francis J. Gallagher and Charles W. Pearson, Bachelor of Business Administration; and Miss Elizabeth M. Sheridan and Gregory D. Shorey, Bachelor of Laws. Over 650 degrees were conferred by President L. H. Murlin upon the largest graduating class in the history of the University. This is an increase of 200 over the 450 degrees granted last June. This large number was due to the fact that Boston University now has over 9,800 students enrolled, exclusive of extra-mural courses.

The H. F. Boyntons of 16 Lombard road, are at Allerton for the season.

Miss Ruth Crosby is enjoying the vacation season at the home of her parents, Hon. and Mrs. J. Howell Crosby, 282 Mystic street. Miss Crosby is a teacher in the schools of Baltimore, Md.

Miss Damon has a large class in Danvers and the recital of this class will be held next Tuesday when Mrs. Allen will act as accompanist.

At the 66th Commencement exercises at Tufts College Monday morning among those receiving their degree were noted three from Arlington. They were, Bachelor of Arts, Magna Cum Laude, Louis Berlin, Howard A. Marple. From the engineering school, Bachelor of Science in civil engineering, Summa Cum laude, George W. Saunders.

The John P. Squire estate, William A. Muller, trustee, has sold to Philip F. Coleman, a lot of land at the northwest corner of Broadway and Cleveland street, Arlington, with a frontage of 100 feet on both streets and containing 9,357 feet. The price paid was above the assessed value of $1400. A block of one-story brick stores will be built upon the lot. Henry W. Savage, Inc., was the broker.

Harold W. Cole, for eleven years with the Dix Lumber Company of Cambridge, has severed his connection with that firm to assume the management of the Arlington office of the Blanchard Lumber Company, with office on Water street. Mr. Cole has had a large experience in the lumber business and since his taking hold of the Arlington office, there has been a marked increase in its business.

Mrs. Andrew Reed, who came up from her winter home in St. Petersburg, Florida, some few weeks ago, and has been with her sister in Harrisburgh, Pa., is now located at 39 Russell street. Before leaving the south, Mrs. Reed had the misfortune to fall down a flight of stairs bruising and injuring one limb so that she has been obliged to resort to crutches. She is, however, gaining.

Miss Natali T. Southard of this town, for the past eight years assistant supervisor of music in the Haverhill schools, has resigned to accept a position as supervisor of music at Providence, R. I., at a much larger salary than Haverhill afforded. Miss Southard is a graduate of the Lowell Normal school, 1914. She studied music at Cornell University and took a post-graduate course at the New York University. She is a native of Manchester, N. H., where she was graduated from the High school in 1912.

A short time ago the superintendent of our schools discovered that the price of coal which Pierce & Winn Co., was charging, was less than the contract called for, made to the school committee. An inquiry brought from the company promptly reply which stated because of the drop in bituminous coal, that the company was giving the committee the benefit of the reduction which was $1.25 per ton. The Pierce & Winn Company has been doing business in Arlington for a long period of years. They evidently have built up a reputation on the old saying that "Honesty is the best policy."

Mr. George S. Chapman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett S. Chapman, the former superintendent of Arlington cemeteries, writes the Advocate from his home in Mobile, Alabama, that Memorial Day there had to be postponed on account of the rain. That Memorial Day in the south is more generally observed on April 26th. He made reference to the many years Post 36 and the organizations affiliated with it, had enjoyed the hospitality of the late Mr. E. Nelson Blake at his residence, "The Maples," which now of necessity, must be only a pleasant memory. Mr. Chapman wrote that recently he had the pleasure of meeting Mr. Frank Mahoney and Mr. Bradford, both of Arlington, and spoke of his regret at not being able to accompany the latter home to Arlington which town Mr. Chapman has not visited for four years.

It would seem that every time one visits the club house of the Middlesex Sportsman's Association on the shore of Spy Pond, there is something new added. The lower landing is now screened in and a runway built to the water. Loads of gravel have been dumped into the pond in front of the house and it will not be very long before there will be some semblance of a beach there. If Freeman Young continues to boss the job. The screening of the lower piazza makes another great asset. Here large numbers of the members can sit and enjoy the cool breeze from the water, without being annoyed by the mosquitoes. A stairway is to be built from the side of the building facing the pond, this stairway to lead directly to the upper piazza and be in addition to the main entrance. While the Advocate representative was sitting on the new piazza—the latter part of the week, he had the pleasure of witnessing a novel sight. The wild ducks have hatched out a number of broods on the island in the pond and it seems to an observer that just as soon as the little duckling can take to the water the mother bird parades them down to the club house for inspection. This day one mother duck paraded passed the club house with thirteen tiny ducks, another with five and still another with eight. All passed in review and of course were given something to eat from their friend, Bill Bowler.

ADJOURNED SINE DIE

Last week the Great and General Court completed the business of the 1922 session as arranged by the many committees and will not assemble again unless there is a special call from Gov. Cox. This fall there will be an entirely new membership, except where members serving this year are successful in the primaries, and at the polls in the state election in November.

We presume most of those who are members of the Republican party feel like "pointing with pride" at what has been done for the good of the Commonwealth during the month since the Legislature came together in January, in the new laws placed on the statute book, frequently in spite of strenuous opposition, and we agree with them that the affairs of the state are in better shape in several respects because of what has been done in the line of new legislation.

Disclosures in banking circles led to the adoption of several measures proposed a year ago and not acted upon, and the banks and savings institutions of the State have received material strengthening by acts adopted. Some twenty bills have been passed, putting teeth into laws previously enacted and adding fresh restrictions along several lines, so there will be no possible chance for return to conditions that led to the closing of at least five trust companies and the tying up of millions of dollars.

Relief for the courts is provided by an important measure which makes several changes in judicial procedure and provides for two additional Superior Court justices. Legislation was passed under which a district attorney, in not pressing a case, must file his reasons in writing for such action. This measure will undoubtedly aid in checking the abuse of the not prosecute. The attorney general is given the right, under another law, to call a special grand jury, upon the approval of the chief justice of the Supreme Judicial Court.

A law was passed, following favorable action by the committee, to permit women to hold any elective or appointive office in the State or county governments. This law was passed following an opinion from the Supreme Judicial Court stating that women were eligible to such offices under the Constitution but that legislation was necessary to remove all question as to their eligibility. Another law affecting women is the testamentary guardianship act, under which women are given the same rights as men in guardianships. Still another act provides for the appointing of an additional member of the Industrial Accident Board who shall be a woman.

Early in the session there were grounds of belief that the county ring had lost its grip, but just before the session closed, it demonstrated the efficiency of combined strength in accomplishing a purpose. That the state should have control of all penal institutions is a growing feeling and we believe a bill to accomplish this will be finally enacted. But it will have to be made an issue at the polls and by making it certain wherever such a sentiment prevails, that only a nominee for representative favoring this plan shall be supported.

It is true this session passed a Prohibition Enforcement Act and it received the Governor's signature, but it awaits action at the polls in November before it becomes operative, because a referendum was tacked to it. The liquor interests of the whole country are combined to secure a negative vote and unless there is a strong rally at the polls in November, they may succeed in still keeping Massachusetts in a class by herself as the only state in the Union that has not come into line with a bill conforming to the provisions of the Volstead Act.

Why this session failed to heed a general demand for a change in methods of naming candidates for public office is a mystery. Nothing quite so bad as the present primary law ever obtained in this state.

THE NEW HARVARD THEOLOGICAL SCHOOL

Andover Theological Seminary, which moved from Andover Hill to Cambridge a few years ago, has just entered into a close affiliation with Harvard University. The Harvard Divinity School joins in this new and closer relation. Both schools come together in what will henceforth be known as the Harvard Theological school, and will be related to the University as is the law and medical schools. None of the rights belonging to Andover Seminary as a corporation are surrendered. It will administer its funds by trustees as heretofore, also choosing its professors, assigning its scholarships, and holding its property. The approval of Harvard University, however, must be given before one can become a professor of Harvard or students can receive a Harvard degree.

The losing of its identity in the merging with the Harvard Theological school, means a new birth for Andover and a new day for theological education in New England. In connection with this great university a school of this sort should give to religion a rational and educational standing of distinction. Moreover, it should lead in religious thinking throughout the land, lifting above controversy the deepest quests of the religious soul. The land needs such a free, independent, reverent, scholarly school in the field of religious inquiry.

As a pledge of its success, Rev. Willard L. Sperry, pastor of Central church, has been chosen professor and Dean of the faculty. He will give his whole time and strength to the new school with the opening of September. Is not this a striking instance of orthodoxy and unitarianism losing themselves in the larger endeavor of religious quests and education?

PUPILS PIANOFORTE RECITALS

Arlington is fortunate in having a large corps of instructors of the pianoforte. Each one draws about her a large class who, under careful training, masters in part at least, the art of piano playing. Last week and this, several of them have held recitals which have been interesting to attend by parents and friends of the pupils.

Miss Alice Grayce Lenk held her pupils' recital, Thursday evening, June 15, in the Unitarian vestry. The stage was beautifully decorated with baskets of Columbia and Premier roses, with a large bowl of the same flowers on the piano and table. The window embrasures also contained baskets of roses and greenery. Miss Lenk's talent and conscientious work as a teacher were reflected in the splendid work of the following pupils who gave the program:—Robert Walker, Elizabeth Walker, Ann Kennedy, Solon Gray, Dorothy Clark, Dorothy Kenney, Ruth Davis, William Davis, Marian MacIver, Edson Gaw, Homer Davis, Emily Norton, Esther Dewing, Arthur Marsh, Laurence Lougee, Irving Hilliard, Eleanor Orde, Doris Blazer, Katherine Hardy, Doris Munroe, Robert Wipphell, Ruth Titus, Abby Hessel-tine.

Pupils of Miss H. Marguerite Shedd from Arlington, Lexington, Winchester and Everett, were heard in a varied and interesting program Friday evening, June 16, in the Unitarian vestry. Miss Marion Rowse, cellist, assisted.

The evident enjoyment of the little ones in taking their part in the program, and their attention to technical details as well as to expression and interpretation of the composer's idea was a tribute to Miss Shedd's ability as a teacher. The selections by the advanced pupils showed the effect of continued study under the guidance of a careful instructor.

"Spring flowers," by Reineke, a soprano solo rendered by Miss Shedd, accompanied by Ruth Hansen with 'cello obligato by Miss Rowse was much enjoyed.

The pupils who took part were Wyman Crosby, Benjamin Goodale, Marjorie Lowcock, Olga Lidberg, Grace Proudly, Lillian Kalberg, Phyllis Hartford, Mary Masterson, Marion Hadley, Ruth Zwicker, Dorothy Lloyd, Ruth Hendrick, Catherine Twombly, Howard Zwicker, Marion Carrecabe, Kenneth Harvey, Myrtle Reid, Dorothy Jennings, Virginia Ross, Viola Carlson, Vera Cameron, Ruth Hansen, Henry Lidberg, Elsa Bjorndahl.

On Friday evening, June 16, at her home, 59 Jason street, Miss Katherine Yerrinton presented her pupils in recital. Miss Yerrinton is not only a successful teacher but an accompanist of rare ability whose services are much in demand. The pupils who appeared on the program were Eleanor O'Brien, Susan Powers, Helen Tupper, Gladys Small, Edith Hatfield, Sylvia Horter, Harriet Eastman, Marjorie Walcott, Dorothy Jones, Elizabeth Eames, Carol Foster.

Monday evening Mrs. Amy B. Wood presented her pianoforte pupils in a recital which was arranged to show the progress made by the pupils during their year's study. The pupils taking part were as follows:—Harry Austin, Dorothy Dwinell, Alice Henderson, Rudolf Elie, Elizabeth Postell, Charles W. Tozier, Alice Frost, Stanley Miller, Helen Milligan, Esther Alden, Hazel Barker, Mildred Kallenbach, Ethel Crosby, Edith Tilden, Phyllis Blake. Until Mrs. Wood's classes made it necessary for her to devote all her time to teaching in Arlington, she was one of the faculty at Wheaton Seminary. Mrs. Wood has also had the advantage of study abroad.

Monday evening the following pupils of Miss Adelaide Proctor were heard in recital at her home, 390 Mass. avenue, Wenonah Sibley, Muriel Giles, John Yale, John Marsh, Barbara Winn, Alice Beunke, Margaret Gazan, Donald Dodge, Jessie Sawyer, Alicia Woodworth, Arthur Watkins, Alice Walker, Ruth Cannel, June Yale, Louise Holt, Eleanor Foster, Mabel Carlton, Corinne Kudlich, Jean Kelso, Bernice Dodge, Mrs. A. D. W. Prescott. Miss Proctor is the oldest in point of service of the pianoforte teachers and her reputation as an instructor is established. Her years of study abroad have especially fitted her for her profession.

MARYCLIFF ACADEMY CLOSING EXERCISES

The younger pupils of the Marycliff Academy appeared in a pleasing and well balanced program at the closing exercises of the school, June 15th. The program showed the pupils in dances, playettes and vocal numbers. Those taking part were the Misses L. Townsend, R. Chase, F. Dickinson, M. McGillicuddy, A. Smiddy and M. Costa in the opening number, a short French playette; Y. Cavadore, M. Cunningham, E. Dore, A. Green, M. S. Jordan and V. Prout, assisting as the six little grandmas. The "Dance of the flowers" was given by Miss M. Farnham; Miss E. Porlier presented "Whistling Jan;" Miss H. Macdonald a "Mayflower gavotte;" Miss V. Leighton, Miss D. Bopp; and Miss Z. Burns, in solo selections; the Misses K. Moran, Gail McGowan, E. Bopp, L. Etherington, E. Poirier, C. Moran, M. McGillicuddy; B. Bowman, M. Costa, E. Costa, F. Dickinson, D. Gibbs, R. Patten, L. Powers, C. Shanahan and A. Smiddy, in a short French play, "La Mere Babat-Jole." The Misses K. Moran, L. Etherington, H. Macdonald, Gail McGowan, C. Moran and M. Cogan, presented a march and trio number and the closing number was a sketch, "Market Day," by the Misses D. Bopp, Z. Burns, J. Campbell, Y. Cavadora, M. Cunningham, R. Chase, E. Dore, B. Green, A. Green, M. S. Jordan, M. Macdonald, M. Cogan, J. Powers, L. Townsend, V. Prout, V. Leighton and E. Spang took the characters.

The following afternoon the commencement day exercises were held at the Academy. The opening half of the program consisted of a selection by Miss Eileen Skeffington, and Miss Helen Walsh, violinists; Miss Pauline Walsh and Miss Nancy Walsh, mandolinists, and Miss Dorothy Walsh, pianist. This was followed by the salutatory by Miss Aurelia A. Bellizia. Miss Skeffington presented a pleasing recitation, accompanied by music and also an excellent piano number. The valedictory was delivered by Miss Nancy M. Walsh. Interspersed were choruses by the school. The second half of the program was a French play, "Baptistere de la France," in which the personages were the Misses Aurelia Bellizia, Dorothy Walsh, Nancy Walsh, Isabelle Fitzgerald, and Eileen Skeffington. The address of the afternoon was delivered by Rt. Rev. Mgr. Edward F. Hurley and he also presented the diplomas and prizes to the graduates. The graduates were:—Florence R. Bellizia, Aurelia A. Bellizia, Mary J. Devlin, Isabel A. Fitzgerald, Zelda Hayes, Eileen B. Skeffington, Dorothy Walsh and Nancy Walsh from the academic course; Alice M. Downing and Doris G. Riley from the secretarial course.

TYPEWRITING EXHIBITION, ARLINGTON HIGH SCHOOL

There was a most interesting exhibition of typewriting by pupils in the typewriting department of the High school, Tuesday afternoon, in rooms 37 and 38 of the school. This department is under the direction of Miss Evangeline Cheney, who is the teacher of the senior class, her assistants being Miss Helen Donnelly, teacher of the junior class; Miss Helen Hadley, the sophomores, and Miss Theresa Binnig, in charge of the junior short-hand and senior filing department.

It would be hard to convince any one not acquainted with what a typewriter can do, under the manipulation of a skillful operator, unless one is familiar with the work being done by pupils in the High school. Intricate file patterns are worked out on the covers of the pupils regular typewriting books, inside of which are to be found a sample of the work done in the department in the hundred and one things that are required of a stenographer with up-to-date firms.

The exhibition was most interesting for no little originality had been displayed in the covers which is only done in a recreation period from the regular work. Such intricate figures as Mary and her lamb were worked out; also Colonial figures, bunches of grapes, baskets of flowers, butterflies, peacocks, etc., by a combining of letters, one over the other, to give a cross stitch effect.

This was all most interesting but more so was the splendid record that pupils in the typewriting course are making so that every pupil graduating has already been placed and the word has come to Miss Cheney that more would be taken if there are any available. The following shows for itself:—

Senior Underwood Operators—10 bronze medals, 11 certificates.

Senior Royal Operators—7 certificates; Mary Donovan wrote 65.1 correct words per minute awarded, a card case; Helen Cook wrote 53.1 correct words per minute with three errors.

Junior Underwood Operators—3 bronze medals, 14 certificates; Myrtle Belyea wrote on an Underwood Test, 68.2 words per minute with no errors.

Junior Royal Operators—5 certificates; two of these operators wrote over 50 correct words a minute with only two errors.

Junior Remington Operators—3 certificates.

Junior Typewriting—Five Juniors received A during entire year in typewriting.

Sophomore Typewriting—Four people received A for entire year. Senior Stenography—Three people passed in over six hundred extra copies.

Junior Stenography—Four people with A for entire year. Two with A on home work for entire year.

DALCROZE EURHYTHMICS

Now comes a new school of dancing with a long name, but a simple and natural appeal. At Miss Rose Cunningham's recent recital in Lexington, an interested audience watched a demonstration by pupils of Miss Jacqueline Mellor of Dalcroze Eurhythmics, which is simply the use of the body as a musical instrument. By bodily movements, which were not exactly dancing, not exactly posturing, far more than metrical gymnastics, which are merely physical exercises with musical accompaniment, these young pupils showed a thorough and remarkable appreciation of the melody, harmony, rhythm and musical form of compositions played on the piano.

Dalcroze, the founder of the first school established near Dresden in 1910, maintained that the "surest means of attaining a true and lasting understanding of rhythm is through the body. There is vibration and attention in every limb. They must dance! This reasonable philosophy, by the way, is the first gleam of light which has ever penetrated the profound darkness of my puzzlement over the universal appeal of jazz dancing. I shall now whisper to my neighbor, as we marvel over jazz gyrations "this is a brother-under-the-skin of Dalcroze Eurhythmics."

Dalcroze himself defines rhythm as "a kind of compromise between power and resistance, crescendos and decrescendos, in every degree of innervation, speed, tension or relaxation" and he claims that the study of eurhythmics, wakes feeling for bodily rhythm and for rhythm of sound. The reaction in everyday life is the loss of self-consciousness, the gaining of poise, the strengthening of concentration and imagination.

In spite of the fact that Germany was the first to appreciate the value of Dalcroze's method, he became persona non grata there during the war because he, with others, signed a protest against Germany's wholesale destruction of works of art. His own country, Switzerland, then welcomed him back and founded for him an institute at Geneva where he is now established. N. F. M.

—The Welfare Committee of the Woman's Auxiliary, Post 39, A. L., accompanied by officers of the Post and Auxiliary, visited the Groton T. D. Hospital, Sunday, leaving Arlington at noon. The committee brought the boys in the hospital, smokes, tonics and an entertainment given by Miss Etta Roe, pianist and singer and Mr. Walter Guyette, singer, both of whom were much enjoyed in their different numbers. The visit was a bright spot in the lives of these young men, who having sacrificed so much for their country, now have only long days in a hospital to look forward to. Most of them are in urgent need of the necessities of life, and gifts of old clothing of any kind, pajamas, etc., would be greatly appreciated and will be received by Mrs. Edward Withus, 229 Broadway, Arlington. Tel. Arl. 1344.

—W. R. C. 43, held their annual outing on June 15, at the home of past president Mrs. Urquhart. From 10 a. m. to 9 p. m., members trilled to Park avenue and taxied over to the bungalow, the new home of Chief and Mrs. Urquhart. Tables had been placed on the grounds but doubtful weather made it necessary to move them to the large piazza where a bountiful lunch was spread at noon, supplemented by native strawberries and ice cream. Cards were enjoyed in the spacious living room where a fire on the hearth gave a cheerful and home-like feeling. The panorama spreading from the Blue Hills in Milton on the right, to the shores of Nahant on the left was enjoyed. At six a bountiful supper was served at which Chief Urquhart was present. He was congratulated on having found such a beauty spot for a home. The ever wonderful night scene, stretching from the Heights to Boston with the light-houses flashing in the distance, came into view as the ladies prepared to descend the hill and another anniversary meeting was voted the best yet. Corps 43 was organized June 19, 1884.

—Francis X. Forest, oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. H. Forest of 12 Lewis avenue, left home Sunday evening for Annapolis Naval Academy where he entered on Wednesday morning as a student. The young man graduated from our high school last Friday with honors, having a school record that is seldom attained. Since he entered the grammar grade at the age of five years, and he is now 17 years, he never was absent, tardy or dismissed from school. All through his school life he enjoyed the best of health. He was inclined toward athletics and was one of Dr. McCarthy's crack track team. In sprints, distance runs, shot put, and broad jump as well as high jump he held his own with the boys of all the other schools and won many first places for his team. He has not allowed this interest in sports to interfere with his studies with the result that he attained the honor roll for perfect marks all through the year. Forest has been popular with his class and they all wish him success in his naval life. In the class prophecy read at the class day exercises last Friday it was predicted that the class would soon hear from Admiral Forest.

MASONIC SOCIETY CIRCUS AND HORSE SHOW

For weeks the one absorbing topic of conversation for those in Masonic circles not only in Arlington but Masons residing in its vicinity, has been the Society Circus and Horse show advertised to be staged on Bassett Field on Medford street, which is near the Mystic Parkway boulevard. The tents erected for the event cover four acres and nothing like it has ever been seen in Arlington. The circus was advertised to open Wednesday and to continue through the week, a performance each evening and matinee Saturday.

The circus and horse show was given for the benefit of the building fund of Menotomy Royal Arch Chapter which fund was first started by a minstrel show given this spring. That affair proved such a huge success under the direction of Harry S. Orr that he was again invited to put on this tremendous undertaking. To a novice it seemed almost impossible, but with Mr. Orr's experience it has gone forward with great progress and when the opening night came which was Wednesday of this week, all was in readiness but the weather. The unprecedented spell of weather had handicapped the completing of arrangements of the circus but the opening hour found all assembled but the weather refused to give the circus its support and the performances had to be postponed.

By forethought, the circus was insured so the evening was not a total loss but the sum received will not probably equal that which would have been made. The circus has been popular from the start and so there has been no effort in disposing of the tickets, in fact, they were in such demand that they were at a premium. Those who held tickets for the Wednesday evening performance will be accommodated on Saturday afternoon and evening.

It looked as if it would be necessary to have a second postponement when shower after shower visited the town Thursday and not until about a half an hour before the show was to open did anything like a clear sky appear.

His Excellency, the Governor, Channing H. Cox, honored the occasion with his presence and remained until well into the evening. He received a splendid ovation and showed interest in the events transpiring in the ring and especially in the horse racing. Many beautiful horses were shown.

Mrs. Frank Hopewell was the largest exhibitor with Miss Evelyn Bryson as mount and she won five of the first prizes. Miss Leggett was another winner. The full list of prizes and blue ribbons will be given next week.

Word was given out Thursday morning that there were no more tickets for sale for any performance. There are a bevy of young people in the circus all well known, who do wonderful (?) stunts. Bronco Charley Miller, formerly of Buffalo Bill's Wild West Show, gives exhibit roping and bull whip throwing, assisted by Mrs. Pearl Lantz. The Thelma DeRono Trio, champions of acrobatic achievements, appeared on flying rings, swinging trapeze, elevated bars and suspended ropes. Acrobats, clowns, horse riders and dancers are features. Al Hart performs fancy and artistic juggling with plates, clubs, balls, hoops and in fact everything from a feather to a wagon wheel. There are pony and horse races between real rivals at each performance, for cash prizes; a troupe of trained dogs, kings and queens of the sawdust ring, and rough riders are introduced. Sixteen Arlington young women, captained by Mrs. William A. Taintor, will show a zouave drill. A midway has been erected. Prof. Sam Bailey will be seen in conjuring. There is a horse show in the hippodrome track. Greater Boston's finest horses are listed.

The horse show was a big feature of the circus. There were many

Do You Realize the Serious Coal Situation?

Coal prices are high now. With the continuation of the coal strike, prices will probably go higher. When Winter comes, it may be impossible to get coal at all. Then will those living in the town where gas is available realize their advantages over those who cannot obtain it.

Save what coal you have now for Winter; make your furnace heat the kitchen while it is heating the other rooms in the house. With steam or hot water install a radiator in your kitchen or a register where hot air is used. Many find that they can secure enough heat by simply leaving the kitchen door open. You will in this way get all the work out of your coal now too expensive to use for cooking.

Do your cooking with gas. Have a modern kitchen, for all-year-round housekeeping. Remember this—no matter what price coal is now, or will be, gas for cooking is the cheapest method, because you can control it—keep it down to doing just the work you have to do without waste. And you pay for just what you use after you have used it, not before.

during the hours of the reception. Mr. and Mrs. Reed were assisted in receiving by their youngest son, Malcolm, and the presence of the mother of Mr. Reed, who is eighty-eight years of age, was a pleasant feature to old-time friends of the family.

Mrs. Reed came to Arlington a bride and by her charming personality as well as musical talent, she immediately made a place for herself in the town and that interest has grown until now she is not only known in the social and musical circles but in its civic and political life, since women have been given equal franchise. That the couple have many friends was evinced not only by the beautiful floral offerings but in expensive gifts in silver.

VAUGHAN-DEE WEDDING

At a large church wedding, Miss Julia Teresa Dee, daughter of John J. Dee of Bedford street, Concord, who is probation officer of the District Court of Central Middlesex, held in Concord, became the bride Wednesday morning of Charles Francis Vaughan, son of Mrs. Catherine Vaughan of 5 Cottage street, Lexington. The marriage took place in St. Bernard's church, Concord Center, following a nuptial mass, the mass being celebrated and the ceremony performed by the pastor, the Rev. Michael P. Mahon.

The bride was attended by three sisters, Miss Elizabeth Rose Dee of Concord, was the maid of honor, and the Misses Agnes Louise Dee and Gertrude Rita Dee, also of Concord, were bridesmaids.
